ROME IN DANGER

"ill our armies have to attack Rome in order to con- facts. A democracy perquer the Germans entrenched mits the people to have there? Further, will the Germans loot the city, removing to Germany the many historical and religious treasures in Rome? And if ' ' A committee sent out they are driven from the city, will they destroy what they cannot carry with them?

It will be a mystery indeed, if Rome is spared serious destruction in the next month or two. For one thing is clear by now. The Germans are out to do what Hitler is reported to have said: "If I go down, all goes with me." Rule or ruin! They know nothing of Christian civilization. They never think that it might be good some day to have some friends. The Germans are not just warriors: they are also vandals. At least the Nazis:

DEMOCRACY WORKS

Wise people face the the facts. This is the first reason why democracy lives and fights better than an autocracy. by our Congress to visit the war fronts has just made its report in eight parts. One part is in high praise of the way our men overcome all difficulties. Another part declares that our soldiers complain that the people back home are not getting a true picture of the war.

This is democracy. at work. Contrast with it the way the people in Germany and Japan are kept in the dark. Give us the facts, Good or bad - let us have the facts. The Senate will help us get more facts.

EXTRA.

MOSCOW; Oct. 8; The Russians are again on the march. Latest reports declare that the Russians have pierced the German lines at three points, north and south of Kiev. They are 65 miles from Latvia. They are on roads that lead to arsaw. Can Hitlor's men stop the Russians? The opinion was freely expressed that the Russians would halt at the Dnieper, at least until winter comes. We shall soon see the real might of the Russian army.

LONDON; Oct. 8; The Germanshave just given London har heaviest raid in over a year. The mystery of the luftwaffe may soon be solved in part. Or this may be nothing more than an isolated raid.

SPORTS - "orld Series Begins!

STILL MORE WAR

Surely all men will now get their fill of war. The victories we are winning do not make us blind to the fact that this war is becoming more herrible every day. We thought the U-beats were about finished. It appears, however, that they had only been called in to be made more deadly. We hear of one ship torpedoed and sent to the bottom within 60 seconds. The loss of life "was heavy". Think of the thousands of young men who live each minute within the possible reach of these deadly sea provi-

Then the conflict intensifies daily on every other war front. This is true in Russia. Hitler has ordered his men to hold the Dnieper line at all costs. Reports come of Russian's bringing up strong re-onforcements; resumi ing fighting on most of the fronts, while they build millions of sleds to use after snow comes. We must yet invade France. Judged by the hard going our mon are having in Italy, vast numbers of men will die before they reach Berlin. And the real conflict with Japan lies ahead.

THE FLOCK OF GEESE

There came a distant honking, an old familiar cry; a V-like chain appearing from out the northern sky. I spoke of how it thrilled me, the wonder of it all. "That's nothing," said my comrade, "geese migrate every fall." I saw that gray old gander, his eyes alert and keen; a bold and dauntless leader, the monarch of the scene. I saw those far flung waters, the Gulf of Mexico; the mighty frozen northland, its leagues of swirling snow, The springtime and the autumn spread out before me there; the years of life rolled by me, from youth to silver hair.

I saw the God who made them, the God of hope and peace, and yet my friend beside me saw just a flock of geese.

A SALUTE TO THE WOMEN OF THE NAVY LEAGUE

Wayne is justly proud of its patriotic women. Many of them have taken over jobs that release men for active service. One of the latest of these is the distribution of the new telephone books that have just come out. These women deserve our deep appreciation.

BIG FIGHT!

A terrific fight took place on North Tayne avenue the other day between a Nazi and one much smaller than himself. It seemed to be caused by jealousy, and the outcome as a draw. The Nazi had the advantage in size but the smaller one came at him with the fury of a true re-head! They rolled over and over, first one on top and then the other, The air was filled with howls and shrieks. Both seemed to see the haven for which they were looking at the same time and letting go of each other made a dash for it. Reaching it at the same time, the fight started all over again. At this point they were separated by spectators, who sent them on their separate ways without any perminate injuries: The Nazi is the Delany's police dog, "Nazi." The Red-head is Mrs. Hess' dauchshund.

STORY - The Two Hour Capture

Two men stopped in front of a bank in Smyrna, Tennessee. Both were shrewdly reviewing the steps in the robbery they were about to pull. With grim, set faces they walked into the bank. One, his gun ready, muttered between his teeth, "Let's get it over with, pal."

But good luck forgot them that day. The very minute the two gangsters stepped into the bank, the cashier laid down a letter. It had been written on important looking stationery. It had come from the Federal Bureau on Investigation in Washington. And the cashier was specifically told what to do in case of robbery.

The robbers forced the cashier to the floor, and while one kept him covered, the other took all the . . . money he could find.

Within a very few tense minutes, the two robbers much richer - sped away, making for the high road.

Quick as a flash the cashier sprang from the floor and started after the robbers - over the telephone. Nashville G-Men heard his report. "This bank has just been robbed by two men. Here's what they look like ... " Then followed a full description of the two men.

The G-Men got down to business! They were alive with readiness for instant pursuit. All roads leading out of the town were covered by alert men. Within two hours the robbers had been c aght. And the much amazed bank cashier lifted his telephone to hear a G-Man tell him. "We've got the men in custody." Most all of the money has been recovered. Fast work, yes. But fast men were on the G-Man job.

W. W. Adams It is easy to see why there is a shortage of workers. Eight million men in service, producing nothing. Everything they eat, wear, or fight with, comes from the toil of others. Meanwhile, the nation as a whole bends every energy to produce materials to be destroyed in destroying the armies and equipment of the rest of the world. Of course there are not men enough, nor resources enough.

In the effort to speed up industry we have exhausted out manpower. The call now is for our women. In Philadelphia they are using hundreds of women on trians and street cars.

We raise two questions. One, why not use colored men? Like it or not, this issue must be faced. The four freedoms! Freedom for whom? "ill democracy work? Is America open to all regardless of race or religion

Two, federal employees! Eliminate one half of govern ment control of American life and put one million of these men into productive work. Yes there are ways we can help the man power prob-

AROUND THE BREAKFAST TABLE

GAME - Buzz and Buzz-Bang

If you are sitting around the table with nothing to do but eat, here is something to add.

Louise starts counting, "One". Glen says, "Two". The others follow up to the number seven for which Buzz must be substituted. Thus Dank says "Six", Fred says, "Buzz", Len says, "Eight" and so on. Fourteen is a Buzz number; Seventeen and twenty-one are, too. Seven, any multiple of seven or any number containing seven is a Buzz.

This game is terribly confusing at first but soon the whole will be so skillful that they will want to play Buzz-Bang! This retains all the features of Buzz and in addition, "Bang" is substituted for six, multiples of six and numbers containing six.

The counting in Buzz-Bang will sound like this; "One, two, three, four, five, bang, buzz, eight, nine, ten, eleven, bang, thirteen, buzz, fifteen, bang, buzz... One hundred seventy-six would be buzz bang because there is a seven and a six in it. Try and figure out 1,675,666,786,776!

Anyone who misses in either game is out. The winner, when he utters his last triumphant "Bang, bang, bang," is acclaimed by all as the Big Shot.

A youngster was asked by his history teacher to give the principal cultural contribution of the Phoenicians. The answer, given without hesitation, was "Blinds.
